

SUCCESS STORY

HILTON MOLINO STUCKY VENICE, ITALY

Empress 2000, Orwak's distributor in Italy, can now among its customers include one of the most luxurious international hotels in the world, the legendary Hilton Molino Stucky, with an exclusive location in Venice, Italy.

An Extravagant Oasis in Central Venice

It is not just a luxury hotel, but a real oasis that occupies part of the Giudecca Island in beautiful Venice. Its honorable history builds on memories, many workers and, not the least, illustrious guests! The historic 19th century mill was turned into a unique and stylish hotel in 2007. Today it has 7 restaurants on site and attracts a truly international audience.

Earned the Green Key Certification

The commitment to protecting the environment and reducing consumption and the waste flows has led to the acknowledgment of the Green Key Certification by International Eco Label.

Baler Makes Significant Contribution

The Orwak baler 3115 is selected to serve in this distinguished environment, as it provides a significant volume reduction of the cardboard packaging, simplifies storage, handling and transportation. Furthermore, it makes recycling more efficient and the free space gained on the hotel's premises represents a further added value - especially on an island, where space is limited, and all transportation to and from the site must be by boat.
